See the press inquiry below. For the last question we might have some language from the Sheboygan monitor issue. Can you also check the responses for the first two questions?

Deadline is 2:30 today. Thanks for your help!

4. <!--[if !supportLists]--><!--[endif]-->Both business groups and environmental groups have raised the question of whether pollution monitors along Lake Michigan are accurate measures of ozone levels because pollution apparently travels along the lake shore from Illinois and Indiana. They say Wisconsin businesses and government can't cut those emissions from elsewhere. Does EPA agree with that assessment of the situation? Would eliminating the lakefront monitoring stations alter the ozone readings? XXX
